Dear June,

Many thanks for your letter which arrived yesterday. I am very glad to learn you are setting out into the world to earn yourself an honest week's wage at the post office. It looks to me as though it is going to keep you very busy but not too busy, I hope, to prevent you from helping with the washing-up as well!

You will be able to give Dad a very independant look when he gives you your pocket money next week!

I am glad you mentioned the Toy collection by T. & H. Will you tell Mother to spend a pound of my money for them.
